STATE ASSEMBLY TO CLOSE SESSION TODAY

Legislature In Final Session At Harrisburg

Expect To Conclude 1933 Session Some Time This Afternoon

CONTROVERSIES TO BE ADJUSTED

General Appropriation Bill Is Still Under Discussion At Session

By WILLIAM J. KELLY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, May 5.—Thrusting all important legislation into conference committees, wearied members of the General Assembly shortly before four a. m. today for a few hours rest before returning for the grand finale of the 1933 session.

The closing has been set for noon but only the hands of the clocks stop at that hour. Disputes over banking legislation and the general appropriation bill will prolong final adjournment until late in the day.

Many Controversies Before recessing this morning, both branches concluded Thursday's business and dispensed with routine on today's program. Such a start appeared to be of little assistance because of the controversies involved.

Banking legislation and the general appropriation bill are in conference committees. Agreements on both are essential if an immediate special session is to be averted. Banking committees already have failed to iron out their difficulties at one session. The principal subject of dispute is whether the state banking department is to have control over private banks. House members insist it shall, while senators voice opposition.

Fireworks Expected The fireworks of the day are embodied in the general appropriation bill. The governor insists his figures must be complied with, but there is a general inclination on the part of legislative leaders to disregard his demands. Senator Harry B. Scott, Centre, chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, is inclined to the belief that all will be ironed out satisfactorily. Joseph G. Steedle, Allegheny, chairman of the House appropriations committee, favors adoption of the bill in its present form and placing it before the governor for approval or rejection.

Treasurer Is Getting Calls For Licenses

Many Applicants For Permits To Sell Beer Are Calling His Office

MUST WAIT UNTIL HE SECURES BLANKS

County Treasurer William O. Pitts reports that he is being besieged with applications for licenses to sell beer. Applicants are telephoning and appearing in person. He estimates that already he has had from 40 to 50 calls.

To all he is giving the same answer: that he is not yet ready to issue licenses for the reason that he does not have any blanks. Until he receives them he does not know what questions to ask the applicants. It is expected that the blanks, which will be furnished by the state, will be here by next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mr. Pitts has as yet received no instructions but it is presumed that the blanks will contain questions that are to be asked applicants. It is likely also that there will be special instructions, which will enable the treasurer to determine whether or not a license is to be issued.

Returned Missionaries Tell Of Spread Of Gospel In Darkest Parts Of Africa

Various Visiting Leaders Speak; Business Taken Up At Afternoon Session

Thursday evening was observed as "Foreign Missionary" night in the assembly of the Pittsburgh District of the Church of the Nazarene in the First Presbyterian church. An inspirational singing featured the opening half hour of the session and as Lawrence McAllen, chalk artist of New Brighton, drew a large picture of "The Crucifixion Scene" Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Gould sang "Dark Calvary" and the audience was moved to tears.

Rev. Charles A. Gibson, superintendent of the Ohio district, offered the prayer and Genevieve and Arvid Peterson sang and the Eastern Nazarene college quartet sang "Jesus, Rose of Sharon" and "I Am Glad that Jesus Won". Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Jenkins, returned missionaries from Africa, spoke of the work of spreading the gospel in that country and told of the terrible superstitions and customs of the heathen, and how much Christianity does for the natives, once they have been led to the belief.

Beer Revenue Stamps Will Be Sold At Banks

Pinchot Signs Beer Revenue Bill At Noon; Tax Now Effective

RETAILERS MUST STAMP ALL SALES

(Bulletin) (International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 5.—The tax on beer sold in Pennsylvania went into effect at noon today when Gov. Gifford Pinchot attached his signature to the administration bill.

At the rate of $124 a barrel and a half cent a bottle, the levy is estimated to yield $10,000,000 in revenue to the state for jobless relief purposes during the next two years. The law became effective the moment the governor attaches his signature. Sales by manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers cannot be made legally until they procure tax stamps. These have been issued by the state department of revenue but will not be on sale until the regular opening hour of the banks where they will be sold. The regulatory and licensing act does not take effect until June 1.

To Sell Stamps At Banks The revenue department has provided for stamp sales in one municipality in each of the 67 counties. This will make it impossible for many beer dispensers to obtain the stamps immediately and legal sales will be prohibited during that time. This interpretation of the law by Attorney General Wm. A. Schneider was an unexpected blow, especially to retailers, anticipating the passage of taxation legislation, many acquired large stocks that must be stamped before it can be sold. Wholesalers must do likewise. The brewers are not affected because the burden of paying the tax falls to them entirely after the present tax-free stock is consumed.

Licenses for the sale of beer on railroad cars and steamships on June 1 are available at the revenue department, Secretary Leon D. Metzger announced.

The county purchasing places for stamps include the following: Union Trust Company, Butler; First National Bank of Lawrence county, New Castle; First National Bank of Mercer, Mercer.

Compensation Bill Goes To Gov. Pinchot

Bill Designed To Revive Work On Relief Projects Goes To Governor

CREATES STATE RELIEF FUNDS

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 5.—The Rice compensation bill, designed to revive the work relief halted by an insurance premium rate recently adopted by the compensation rating and examining board, went to Governor Pinchot today.

The bill creates a state work relief fund for the payment of compensation of persons injured on work relief projects. The premium rate levied on employers has been reduced from $1.00 weekly to 25 cents per man. The bill also provides that injured persons must be incapacitated 26 weeks before becoming entitled to compensation.

Concurrence in amendments by both House and Senate returned the Cordier bill, appropriating $5,000,000 from the motor license fund to the Department of Education for use by distressed school districts, to the governor's office. Repayment of the loans can be made at any time, according to the bill.

RECALL 50 EMPLOYEES ON E. AND A. DIVISION

The pendulum of business swung further upward in the New Castle district today as the Pennsylvania railroad announced that within the past few days it has recalled to service approximately 50 furloughed men on the Erie & Ashtabula division. A large part of the 50 workers reemployed were local men.

Things Much Brighter A ray of optimism appeared in Superintendent G. S. West's face as he declared that "things in general look brighter."

The half hundred recalled men on his division went back to service in the railroad's train and engine service departments. An upswing in freight tonnage during the past few weeks gave the Pennsylvania a chance to rehire the men.

Reports on the E. & A. division's freight business indicated a heartening increase in hauls.

Car Ferry Resumes At Ashtabula, O., the Lake Erie car ferry of the Pennsylvania, "The Ashtabula," went back into its freight service today. It has been in drydock all winter. The ferry transports freight cars from the Pennsy Ohio dock to a Canadian road's dock at Port Burwell.

Trainmaster F. J. Perry of the Pennsylvania said two new freight trains have been reestablished between Youngstown and Ashtabula, two or three between Conway yards and Erie and another between New Castle and Canton, O. The latter was placed in operation this morning.

Rail officials chose to interpret the improved freight business as a welcomed reflection of industry as a whole throughout this section.

Clarification Of Provision In New Beer Control Bill Is Awaited

May Prevent Many From Selling Beer It Is Declared

(International News Service) Is there a "joker" in the state beer bill? Embryo beer purveyors throughout the Commonwealth today were anxiously awaiting clarification of a clause in the beer-control measure which, with the signature of Gov. Gifford Pinchot affixed, apparently bars chain hotels, restaurants and chain drug stores from handling beer after June 1.

Questionable Clause The questionable clause is contained in the amendment written into the bill before it was signed Wednesday night. It reads: "Licenses shall be granted by the treasurer only to individual citizens of the United States who have been residents of this Commonwealth for at least three years immediately preceding, or to corporations organized in or duly authorized to transact business in this Commonwealth and all of whose officers and directors shall be citizens of the United States who have also been residents of this (Continued On Page Two)

The McClure beer control bill signed by Governor Pinchot sets up the following regulations for the beverage in Pennsylvania: Bares are prohibited but retail sales are permitted over lunch counters operated in connection with eating places having 300 square feet of floor space, 10 tables and 40 chairs. Sales on Sunday are barred, together with sales to minors and persons visibly intoxicated or insane. Retail sales are prohibited on election days except for home consumption. Voters may decide whether a municipality shall prohibit the retail sale of beer for consumption on the premises; wholesalers and brewers are not affected by any local referendum under this clause. Brewers are licensed at $100 each by the state alcohol permit board. County treasurers are empowered to grant wholesale and retail licenses to any reputable firm or individual, with appeals to the local court from the treasurers' ruling. Wholesalers fees, based on population, range from $37.50 to $150; retailers fees, from $75 to $300. The control bill goes into effect on June 1.

It is not yet known when the substitution will occur as repairs to the West Washington street bridge have not yet been started.

New Increase In Mill Operations

(International News Service) YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 5.—Mill operations in the Youngstown steel district will rise to 33 per cent capacity over the week-end for the best rate in 15 months, estimates disclosed today.

The rate is a three per cent increase over production at the start of this week, and two per cent above mid-week operations. Ingot output will be the highest since Feb. 7, 1932. Thirty-four of the 83 open hearth furnaces in the district will be in operation.

What is this new inflation, asked Mortimer McGee, the whole thing is a question and a puzzle to me, will they enlarge the dollar bills or cut the quarters down, will nickels do the work of dimes, he questioned with a frown. PA NEW OBSERVES

There's one stretch of connecting highway in the northern end of Lawrence County and the southern end of Mercer county, that should get some kind of permanent improvement. We refer to the road from Volant to Leesburg. The half mile into Volant, from the end of the concrete highway from New Castle, likewise, should be improved.

Latest trees planted along the "Road of Remembrance," the Perry highway, north of Harlansburg, are real trees. It will be but a few short years until they will make a magnificent showing.

Violet picking is the popular outdoor sport just now. Bouquets of the pretty little blue flowers can be seen in many a window.

PRESIDENT SEES DEFINITE BUSINESS UPTURN

Makes Address To Business Men

Roosevelt Says Tendency Of Wages From Now On Should Be Upward

DECLARES BOTTOM FOR WAGES REACHED

By GEORGE E. DUNNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—American wage earners, heartened by President Roosevelt's declaration that wages had reached rockbottom and henceforth should be increased, were hoping today that the employers would adhere to the dictates of etiquette and construe a White House "request" to be actually a "command."

Before the overlord of industry, as represented by the membership of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, were three such presidential requests today, each calculated to prevent their employees from becoming forgotten men and women as commodity prices rise.

Speaks Before Business Men.
In a brief, but pointed speech before the U. S. chamber last night, Mr. Roosevelt asserted that for four years wages had plunged downward faster than the cost of living. He asserted that a "slight but definite upturn" has now transpired in most industries with a simultaneous rise in commodity prices, and he asked that pay be increased in conformity with that rise.

Further, he asked the units of the various industries to combine so as to prevent overproduction, prevent unfair wages, eliminate improper conditions and drive out "cut-throat" competition.

And finally the president called upon each employer to translate his personal welfare into the welfare of the whole, lay aside special and selfish interests and strive for a well-rounded national recovery.

Mr. Roosevelt promised that the full weight of the government would be behind any move on the part of industry to band together and bring the "minorities to understand that their unfair practices are contrary to a sound public policy."

Thrust At Sweatshops.
The president's thrusts at sweatshop wages and sweatshop practices were emphasized as follows:

"During the past few weeks we have witnessed a slight but definite upturn in most industries, a simultaneous rise in most commodity prices. Past experience indicates that when the price level begins to rise after a long period of declining commodity prices, wages which have been previously curtailed lag behind the rise in the price level.

"That result has in the past imposed upon those who labor an unfair burden, has prevented their just and equitable share in the profits of industry and has limited the purchasing power of the overwhelming majority of our population.

"I, therefore, ask you, who represent in all probability the majority of the employers of the nation, to refrain from further reduction in the wages of your employees and I ask you also to increase your wage scale in conformity with and simultaneous with the rise of the level of commodity prices insofar as this lies within your power."

MILLION TREES TO BE PLANTED

The four civilian conservation corps camps already established in the forest from nurseries at Rockview penitentiary, Bellefonte, Pa., Maine and New York. The first shipment of 60,000 small trees has arrived at the Pebble Dell camp and planting will be started Tuesday.

Building Roads

In the meantime groups of workers gradually are being released from camp construction duties for other projects under the reforestation program. Three hundred of the 836 men in the camps are now at work building truck trails to facilitate transportation of the recruits to and from the camps and improving grounds for campers throughout the forest. It is believed 800 will be doing actual reforestation by the first of the week.

The Allegheny forest's fifth C. C. camp will be established at Highland Corners, nine miles south of Kane, instead of Owl's Nest, as first contemplated. Two hundred recruits for the camp are expected to arrive from Fort Monroe within the next few days.

U. S. Forest service workers are being assigned to the colonies to direct reforestation activities. Twenty will be quartered with each camp.

BUSSES TO RUN TO WEST SIDE

Treser said: They are going to take the street railway of the bridge. He said there will be an aerial way in the middle of the bridge which will prevent operation of street cars.

"I think the city should have something to say about it," Councilman Genkensinger said. Treser asserted the city cannot do anything because a contract for repairs has been let.

"The people will have bus service," Treser declared. He indicated that the company would not be permitted to run street cars over the bridge.

After council meeting, members of the body conferred informally with superintendent T. C. Moore of the car company. The meeting was held in the office of Mayor Mayne.

Following this meeting Superintendent Moore was asked if it were true that busses would be substituted for operation of street cars to the West Side. He replied affirmatively.

LEGISLATURE IN FINAL SESSION AT HARRISBURG

The Harris bill, providing for permanent registration in Pittsburgh and Scranton. This has been given to a conference committee, which must either report or sign its "death warrant" before sine die adjournment is spread upon the journal.

HARRISBURG, May 5.—An agreement on the general appropriation bill was reached by a conference committee today after consideration of the measure since the assembly recessed early this morning.

The compromise figure was not immediately disclosed. The conference report was hurriedly dispatched to the printer and was not expected to be ready for presentation to the house and senate until late this afternoon.

It was understood, however, that the amount agreed upon was slightly below Gov. Pinchot's recommendation of $153,000,000.

SEE JOKER CLAUSE IN NEW BEER BILL

Commonwealth for at least three years immediately preceding the applications for licenses.

With county solicitors throughout the state raising the question of whether chain concerns whose officers or directors live outside the state could legally hand the new brew, the Allegheny county solicitor's office acted promptly.

Would Bar Many

County Solicitor J. P. Pife and his assistant, Ralph Frank, said flatly that unless informed otherwise they will advise the county treasurer not to grant permits unless the applicant represents an organization whose officers and directors all reside in Pennsylvania.

Should the moot clause be held strictly to its interpretation, several legal authorities said, the ramifications would be widespread. Even local corporations where a single officer or director resided outside the state would fall under the ban, and some of Pennsylvania's most exclusive clubs would be barred from selling beer if it developed that even one director or officer resided outside in the state the required length of time.

NEGOTIATING TO RAISE RANSOM IN KIDNAPING

Metag Manufacturing company of Detroit.

Lee was vague on the subject of how much ransom money has been raised or is being raised. He could not say whether the amount was $25,000, as reported. He said he had "no grounds" for believing it was $25,000.

"We hope that a contact with the kidnapers will be made today in Detroit or in New York," he remarked at one stage of the interview. But he quickly added:

"If a contact is made we probably will not know about it here until the girl is returned safely to her home."

No Definite Clues.

HARWICH, Mass., May 5.—Baffled by the lack of a single definite clue, the police frankly admitted today that they were merely "groping" in their efforts to find ten-year-old Margaret "Peggy" McMahon, who was kidnaped from in front of the Harwich grammar school last Tuesday afternoon.

Latest developments in the Cape Cod kidnaping mystery were:

1.—The missing girl's father urged that the police withdraw from the scene for 24 hours to make it clear to the kidnapers that it would be perfectly safe to return the child to her home.

2.—The police answer was "no," but an intimation was given that the authorities would be inactive for a 24-hour period.

3.—Governor Joseph B. Ely was consulted by the authorities on this question and he left it to the police to use their own judgment.

4.—William Lee, the young man who is acting as contact man for the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McMahon, former wealthy residents of Detroit, offered himself as a hostage to the kidnapers as a means of showing good faith that if they returned the child they would be immune from prosecution.

Police Make No Headway.

The admission that the police had made no real headway was candidly made by Detective Lieutenant Ernest Bradford, acting as spokesman for Brig. Gen. Daniel Needham, state commissioner of public safety, who is in charge of the investigation.

The police were unable to obtain any trace of the girl or her kidnapers in their intensive search of Popponet Point, in the Cape Cod region, once known as a rendezvous of liquor runners and racketeers. Fifty state troopers combed that section without result. A thorough, but fruitless search, was also made of the camps at Wakely Lake and Peters Pond in the same vicinity.

Brig. Gen. Needham admitted the hunt was concentrated in that region "on a hunch" and not because of any definite leads.

The police did not expect anything worth while to develop from an offer from Ohio by a man named J. A. Griffin, said to be from Chicago, to aid the McMans in solving the case.

McMahon received two telephone calls from Griffin, the police said. The first was from Columbus. Griffin was quoted as saying he knew the whereabouts of Peggy and requested that McMahon send him money so he could fly from Columbus to Harwich. Later a second call came from Griffin, this time from Cleveland. He wanted the price of a railroad ticket this time.

Brig. Gen. Needham, after an investigation, advised McMahon not to send Griffin any money.

Both the police and the McMans were watching "the Detroit end" of the case on the possibility that the kidnapers would turn up there with the child. "Peggy's" maternal grandfather, William Robert Kales, a Detroit industrialist, and her paternal grandfather is Francis Charles McMahon, widely known engineer, banker and industrialist of that city.

PLANT TREES IN MEMORY LANE

Approximately 75 clubwomen from New Castle and a total of 500 representing several score women's community organizations in Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Lawrence and Westmoreland counties gathered on Thursday at the Claudine Virginia Trees farm in Harmony where 81 American elm trees were planted to form Memory Lane, a living monument to clubwomen who have served with distinction during the history of women's organization in western Pennsylvania.

Trees from Lawrence county included the following: The Reading Circle planted one for Mrs. Charles Greer and Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips; Current Events class honored Mrs. John Breckenridge; Sorosis club planted one to Mrs. Frank R. Woods; Art club planted one to Mrs. Frank L. Burton; Garden club planted one to Mrs. S. D. Pearson and Mrs. W. C. Eckenrood; the National Council of Jewish Women planted one to Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger; the Daughters of 1812 planted one to their organization, and honoring its mother Mrs. S. E. McCleary a real daughter, T. J. McCleary planted one. The Current Events of '23, the Circle of '91 and the Wampum Women's club each planted one to their organization. Lawrence county was the banner county, having planted the most trees. The Fox Chapple club of Pittsburgh dedicated a rock garden; 65 fruit trees were planted and a hundred rose bushes set out also.

Mrs. James G. Chalfant, president of the southwestern district of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, was in charge of the affair. The trees that form Memory Lane were presented by Mrs. S. D. Pearson, New Castle, of the gardens and conservation department of the federation, and were accepted by Mrs. John M. Phillips of the Brashear settlement.

The Zellenople Women's Community club furnished music. Each group conducted a ceremony about the trees they planted at conclusion of the central service.

Most impressive was the closing prayer given by Mrs. S. E. McCleary of New Castle.

Next year the women are planning a reforestation and hope to transplant 25,000 pine trees.

Like All Commodities, Diamonds Are Going

UP

Diamonds are an imported commodity. Because of the reduced value of the dollar in foreign exchange, the price of diamonds has, automatically, increased considerably in wholesale markets. Being a commodity limited in supply and always in demand, they will undoubtedly participate to the fullest extent in any further price rises. And, most important from an investment standpoint, we are still offering that at the old rock-bottom prices As yet

CITY MANAGER CITIES

THE city manager cities of the United States have made a splendid record during the years of depression in caring for the distressed, in reducing the burden of taxation, in improving public services, in putting constructive economies into effect, and in balancing their budgets. Lexington, Kentucky, with the new form of government in operation during the period of stress and strain, has every reason to offer itself congratulations at its satisfactory financial condition.

Cincinnati, too, has made an admirable record. White the past year brought more than a thousand cities to down-right disaster, and led to their default and to the loss of their credit, under her city manager Cincinnati has remained financially sound. Her citizens have paid their taxes promptly and without complaint. The administration finished the year with a small balance, after reducing operating costs by $1,000,000 over that of the preceding year.

Bradstreet's agency, in a report on Cincinnati, says: "As waste in expenditure had already been largely eliminated at the beginning of the depression, further economies have been the result of scientific planning and adjustment which indicate admirably the possibilities of constructive retrenchment. It is worthy of note that operating costs were lowered $1,200,000 from 1931, and in the face of rising relief costs, without reductions in salaries and wages, these already below in comparison with other large cities."

There was no public disorder in that city. Relief work was carried on effectively and honestly. The city completed a new $40,000,000 terminal. There has been no spirit of defeatism or of despair. All the services of the municipality were maintained upon a high plane of efficiency. Physically the city was never cleaner, public health was never better, accidents were reduced, infant mortality was reduced, and the city was decidedly an improved city, a more wholesome place in which to live than even in 1931. Steady progress has been made right through the depression.

IMMIGRANTS NOT WANTED NOW

Times are anything but propitious for passage of the bill of Representative Dickstein of New York, which would practically abrogate the executive order of President Hoover which had barred from this country some 500,000 would-be immigrants for the last three years.

The effect of this bill would be to nullify the order to consult, that no person should be given a visa for admission to this country unless it could be shown that he would not become a public charge.

The object of the bill is to correct alleged injustice in the separation of families, but it is an insidious measure, loosely drawn and capable of such misuse as to break down the barrier which the nation has been compelled to erect for its own protection.

The present is not the time to foist upon the United States more unemployed, to be cared for at public expense. It is said that representations of officials of the state department have given the measure its impetus; nevertheless the committee on immigration cannot be too much on its guard against subtle attempts to circumvent the salutary laws relating to immigration.

WHEAT MARKET FREED

The farm board by selling the last of its wheat holdings has caused to be lifted from the grain market a shadow that had served to depress prices. With the farm board holdings no longer an obstacle to be feared, a stronger market should be in prospect.

Opinion differs concerning the beneficial effects of the board's efforts to stabilize wheat prices. While some students of conditions contend that the board's operations did enable farmers to receive prices for their wheat above the world market level, others feel equally convinced that no practical benefits marked the board's operations in the stabilization field.

Concerning one thing, there is little uncertainty. The losses of the board amounted to nearly $200,000,000. Of this amount, $160,334,489 was caused by the stabilization operations, and $23,618,742 represented the cost of wheat donated to the Red Cross for free distribution.

The stabilization operations constituted an experiment at a very critical time in the commodities markets. The wisdom of the course was questioned at the time, but the situation was regarded as calling for emergency action of some kind. An attempt to use government money to bolster prices was the result.

This policy will not be resorted to again, according to Henry Morgenthau, Jr., chairman of the board. The results of the experiment already made seem to justify the change.

WHERE'S "RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM"?

An occasional citizen is still found worrying about the large scale of government operations now under way, the costliness of the projects and the encroachment of the government at so many points upon the realm of private enterprise.

Less is heard, however, about "rugged individualism." That may revive again when the nation is better fed, housed, employed and otherwise provided for. But for the present, it is recognized that our competitive individualism, for one reason and another, has not been so rugged lately. In out distress, we all appeal to the Great White Father at Washington. Which is to say, we collectively undertake to do for ourselves various things we find ourselves unable to do individually.

We are not adopting Socialism or any other ism. We are simply doing what look like necessary and sensible things to get ourselves out of the hole.

"This is what government is for," says a thoughtful minister. "We expended $20,000,000,000 for a war, and wasted it. We are justified in spending $5,000,000,000 or $6,000,000,000 in starting something to strengthen our banks, reduce unemployment, stimulate industry and create new wealth to replace what has been lost."

"The government may have to go farther, in order to get people back to work, taking over and operating various industries and utilities. But we hope this drastic action will not be necessary."

The hum of the factories is being heard again and the tune is a dirge for the pessimists.

SOLENN THOUGHTS

MEN ALWAYS are saying that women are mysterious. Some women admit, pretending, that this is true, but nearly every woman must know in her heart that a man is far more mysterious than a woman. . . . I think I know why that is. . . . Women are direct, men are more devious. If a woman wants something, she wants it and can not easily be diverted from her desire.

But a man can be, and frequently is, persuaded that she should change his mind. And the most mystifying individual to a man, is one who goes directly ahead in this world and insists on getting what she wants.

He says that women are just the same as men, but when he tries to treat a woman as he treats another man he gets into a mess of trouble every time.

I have a number of regrets, but nothing has caused me more trouble than Procrastination. . . . I've asked other people about that and most of them have agreed that Procrastination has done them more harm than their other weaknesses combined.

We look back and decide that the things we didn't do was the thing we should have done. And we swear to do better in the future, but we rarely keep that resolve.

A man in my presence put out a match strangely. Instead of blowing on it, he moved his fingers slowly up the match behind the flame and it disappeared almost magically before him.

I tried it, too, but I moved my fingers too rapidly and scorched them. I should have remembered the ancient aphorism about clutching the nettle firmly, but that's the hardest bit of wisdom to remember and few of us really believe it.

If you were asked, "What do you believe?" you could sit down and make a list of your beliefs, but the chances are it would not be accurate. The things you DO are what you believe.

Usually the things you say you believe are the beliefs you might have if you were somebody else.

GROUCHINESS—A HABIT

Being grouchy in the morning is a habit, to a great extent. With no special reason for the frame of mind, the grouch permits a tendency in that direction to grow until it seems to be the natural thing.

How much happier your home might be, and what a beneficial change it would make in your life, if you'd try being good natured, instead of that morning-croak person. You may not sleep well, but why punish the family for that?

And you don't do yourself any good by being crabbed in the morning.

Perhaps you are the sort that won't speak to anyone in the morning.

You don't want anyone to speak to you.

You are out of sorts when you leave the house and those left behind have a very unfavorable impression of your departure.

How different everything might be if you departed in a cheerful frame of mind and waved good bye to the folks.

You'd find the whole day brighter and certainly your home folk would feel happier.

Try it. You will find that a great and favorable change will come over you—life will seem brighter and more worthwhile.

CHANCE

A wisp of straw from a wagon rack blew in his eyes, and turned him back.

Turned him about from the wind which blew.

As dust in the eye will always do, And all because of that wisp of straw The loveliest girl in the world he saw.

Oh, curious ways of the gods of chance!

He had passed her once with never a glance.

For his head was high and his mind intent On some problem deep as to work he went.

But the wind blew straw from a wagon rack

Which got in his eye, and he turned his back.

And there she stood! The mother to be

In the years to come of his children three!

Yes, there she stood, with a smiling face.

And holding her hand in a firm embrace

He got his first look at his mother-in-law.

And all because of a wisp of straw, Who knows what waits for us down the street.

By what curious chances good friends meet.

Had that farmer a moment or two delayed—

A different marriage that man had made.

But a puff of wind and a wisp of straw Gave him a wife and children and mother-in-law.

It seems to us, from what we hear about the making and selling of beer the suds is the thing to carry about all the taxes needed to run the government. Some breweries state they have orders to run them two years and can't get enough containers to fill their orders. And this in spite of the fact that beer is selling for about three times the price it did before prohibition.

Only ten years ago our county home did not have electric light or even the most common toilet facilities. Who would have thought there would be such a thing as a golf course on that farm and the old poor house ringing with laughing golf players enjoying all the modern conveniences known? Times do change things.

A cat sneaking howardward . . .

Smoke spirals white,
Lovers are meeting
Again at night.

Dear Hints & Dints: I was calling on a friend of mine recently, who asked me if my husband and I never indulged in a little tiff. "Never" I replied. "That would be a terrible waste of energy; and would sound awful to the neighbors."

"What do you do when you get mad?" Stand in the middle of a room and throw things at each other?" she asked.

"No," I replied. "I shut my teeth down with a loud report, enter the privacy of my den, slam the door, and cuss mildly. If that fails to restore my sunny disposition, I write a contribution to Editor Roundabout. Long before I have it composed good enough to suit his highness: I have forgotten that I was mad at any one. "Quarreling, my dear, leads you straight to the criminal lawyer, and the divorce court. "Yes," said the minister. "I do the same thing. In a sermon a few Sundays ago I tried to say, 'The Devil is the father of liars' but instead of that I said, 'The devil is the father of lawyers,' and it was such a small mistake I let it go."

Blame For Chicago Turmoil
Not Confined To One Group

Responsibility For Belligerent Activities Of Teachers Also Shared By Public Officials, Banks And Voters,
In Opinion Of Country

Storming of banks and other demonstrations by the rest of the country, with much uncertainty as to the share of the responsibility that rests upon the various groups involved, but with a general agreement that careless political methods are due to lack of civic interest on the part of those who make up the municipality. Teachers are held to have erred in their methods, although countrywide sympathy for their suffering is voiced and tributes are paid to their devotion to duty without compensation. The banks are declared to have evaded their duties in dealing with corrupt officials, and the public for years is believed to have tolerated vicious politics with its waste of funds. General Daves gets little support in his statement on "trouble makers."

"One of the darkest episodes in the history of American city government" is condemned by the INDIANAPOLIS NEWS, which offers the summary of the existing complications: "Now that some teachers have not been paid for a year, and the total of their back pay is nearly 30,000,000, they have given up ordinary means of trying to get the money by petition and resorted to public demonstrations. The teachers undoubtedly have the sympathy of the public. School pupils have reflected public opinion in strikes and parades. The sacrifices made by some teachers in order to be at their work have invited attention to the contrast between their standard of loyalty to the people's interest and the betrayal of the people by public officials who squandered millions of dollars for the enrichment of politicians and their friends. The teacher demonstrations in banks, however, are of doubtful effect."

"The case is not unique," thinks the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, with the suggestion that "it is typical of a world in which science has grown so much, while politics is still in its swaddling clothes." The NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE offers the explanation: "Chicago is paying a terrific price—and its teachers probably are bearing more than their fair share thereof—for permitting itself to be made into a practical politician's 'paradise.' The primary cause of its troubles should be everywhere recognized and the responsibility placed where it belongs." The LEXINGTON LEADER declares: "All that Chicago lacks is a municipal government which is honest, efficient and responsive to the needs of the people. Looking that, conditions cannot improve. The people of Chicago have a thousand-and-one advantages and much to be proud of. But without a decent government they are in a sorry state. The growth of the city, rapid as it has been, would have been far more amazing but for the blighting effects of such administrations as that of Thompson. There have been others equally as bad. Since he went out of office conditions have shown no improvement. A city manager government in Chicago would transform conditions and the problems now apparently insoluble, would be rapidly cleared up."

"This situation," according to the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "has been greatly involved by political considerations. Powerful influences have been at work to prevent the overturning of the disputed assessments as well as to effect a revision. The whole city has suffered in consequence, but none more severely than the teachers who have worked faithfully with practically no pay for many months, and it is no wonder that they have sought at least by direct action to compel an adjustment. They have at least directed national attention to this deplorable state of municipal government, the second largest city of the country."

"The teachers have taken a leaf from the book of some other Chicago citizens, even better though less favorably known," says the ROANOKE TIMES of their demonstration, with the advice that "the meek inherit the earth, one of these days, but it will be after the ruler and more aggressive element get through with it." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS "sympathizes with the teachers," but believes that they "should know better than to make drives upon banks."

Referring to General Daves' statement describing the demonstrators as "trouble makers," the DAY

TON DAILY NEWS remarks: "Whom did he mean? Who made the troubles Daves and the teachers are in? If we knew we might do better another time." The HARTFORD TIMES believes that "the trouble makers were the politicians, who ran the city's credit into the ground, and the bankers who permitted them to do so," a view which is voiced also by the ASHLAND DAILY INDEPENDENT, while the DES MOINES TRIBUNE blames "apathetic citizens." The AKRON BEACON JOURNAL holds that "rough and rugged speaking in its latest application brings no added laurels to the former Vice President." The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER thinks the new Mayor may find a way "to make the tax delinquents pay up."

Duty of the banks to their depositors is emphasized by the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, the COLUMBIA (S. C.) STATE, and the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW. Actions of the belligerent teachers are criticized by the BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN. The LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL sees in the whole matter "the inevitable penalty for vicious government."

Refuse Request To Open Street

Council Turns Down Gas
Company's Request For 70 Openings

CITY INDICATES
NEW LINE DESIRED

"I offer a motion that the request be refused," said Councilman Genkinger during a meeting of council at city hall today when the Manufacturers Light & Heat company asked permission to make 70 excavations on the south side of East Washington street between Water street and the east line of the Public Square. The excavations would be for repairing of leaks caused by electrolysis in the line which Engineer Hoskins reported he had been informed is more than 30 years old. Genkinger's motion passed unanimously.

Mayor Mayne opened the discussion by stating: "It is about time something should be done about the gas company."

Councilman Genkinger first offered a motion that the company should be instructed to lay a new line in East Washington street. It was withdrawn.

Mayor Mayne wanted to know how long it would take for the company to finish repairs if the excavations were allowed.

Genkinger persisted that "it is about time the company put in a new line."

Motion Passes
"It will mean chopping up the pavement if the repairs are permitted," Councilman Davies declared.

Engineer Hoskins said the arrangement made as he understands it with the state is that the company will excavate, make repairs to the line, then lay a base and the state highway department employees will lay the brick.

"We should refuse permission," Councilman Treser stated.

Mayor Mayne argued that "I do not understand why a line should be laid in Washington street. It should be laid in the alleys and enter buildings from the rear."

Solicitor White said the city had authority to compel such an undertaking.

"I offer a motion that the request be refused," Genkinger. The motion passed.

Correct this sentence: "Yes, Bill is meek," said the wife, "but I never forget that I owe everything to him."

FIRST TREATMENT OF ROAD FINISHED

County Commissioner Elmer Conners reports that the Highway Department this morning finished the Weigeltown-Energy road, so far as surfacing the roadbed with rough stone is concerned. The road will now be treated with crushed limestone as is the custom in building what is known as secondary roads. About 60 men are employed on the job.

Registration Of Salesmen Is Increasing

More Than Two Hundred Salesmen Have Been Registered By Police Department

Registration of salesmen by the police department under the provisions of the city ordinance which became effective the first of the year is increasing and the means of protecting the interests of the people from fake salesmen is much greater than previous to the passing of the ordinance.

The actual number of salesmen now registered with the police department is now 215, and every day sees an increase in this number. Under the provisions of the ordinance all persons engaged in the sale of products from house to house must register; also those who sell to stores. All persons registering are given an identification card, which insures the person approached of being able to determine whether or not the person offering them something for sale is bona fide or not, at least as far as having the permission of the police department.

It also protects the salesman, as he is in no danger of being picked up and forced to leave town if he has the identification card in his possession, which card is a duplicate of a record in the office of the police.

AGED GROVE CITY MAN IS HONORED

GROVE CITY, Pa., May 5.—Fred Squires, Grove City, was given a surprise party on his eighty-fourth birthday on May 3.

Squires was landlord at the Grove City House, the leading hostelry here, of the eighties.

He has been retired for a number of years.

Mothers Discuss Camp East Brook

Are Entertained At Tea Thursday Afternoon By Y. W. C. A. Committee

Twenty-five mothers of girls who expect to attend Camp East Brook this summer were guests of the camp committee at a tea in the Y. W. C. A., Thursday afternoon.

It was a gathering designed as a way of receiving suggestions direct from the mothers as to what features the camp committee should stress in composing the Camp East Brook program. The purpose of the tea event was fulfilled in a way most gratifying to the committee.

The mothers were in favor of operating the camp on eastern standard time. It was almost the unanimous opinion that June is a better month than August for the operation of the camp. One reason for believing so was that the girls can put the knowledge taught them at camp to a practical use through the rest of the summer.

Activities suggested by the mothers included nature study, swimming, music, handicraft and dramatics. It was suggested that a tutor in nature study be brought to the camp several times during each camp period.

Groups will be divided into quite small classes in order that the girls will get as much individual coaching as possible.

Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, president of the Y. W. C. A. board of directors, poured the tea. She was assisted by members of the camp committee, Mrs. Robert Eckles, Mrs. Glenn Berry, Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Roland. Mrs. Eckles led the discussion.

Among the guests were the mothers of the following girls who were at camp last summer: Eleanor Berry, Eleanor Eckles, Helen Edgar, Carol Henderson, Sara Kohn, Betty Jane Kison, Nancy McKee, Roberta Myers, Marilyn Pearce, Beatrice Sandier, Jean Waddington, Jane Morris, Juniata Veach, Phillis Ferver, Isabelle Mitchell, Georgianna Truby.

Opposition For Railroad Plan

Formidable Opposition To Roosevelt's Railroad Plans Formulated

BROTHERHOODS TO OPPOSE BILL

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Roosevelt's drastic emergency railroad program faced formidable opposition in congress today, as Democratic leaders in both houses promised early consideration of the plan in committee.

The house interstate commerce committee probably will open hearings on Monday, with the senate committee also preparing to call in railroad heads and labor.

Strong Opposition
Notice of opposition has been served by spokesmen for the Railroad Brotherhoods, who were called in to help frame the plan.

The inclusion of a clause to place railroad holding companies under the interstate commerce commission is expected to provoke strong opposition from railroad and financial circles. The bill has been fought for two years.

One of the most important provisions in the bill establishing a federal coordinator, congressional railroad experts said, is a section prohibiting loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation unless there is reasonable prospect of repayment.

This, in the opinion of some members, would virtually put an end to railroad loans by the R. F. C. and force reorganization of many railroad systems under the special bankruptcy act.

Ducray Is Awarded Damages Of $2500

Verdict By Agreement Reached After Testimony For Plaintiff Is Taken

Verdict by agreement was taken before Judge R. L. Hildebrand at court yesterday afternoon after the testimony of the plaintiff had been presented in the case of G. L. Ducray against Charles Swiderski and Clovis M. Ducray, in which the plaintiff was asking damages for the death of his wife, Maude Ducray, in an automobile accident at Harlansburg.

Under the verdict G. L. Ducray is to receive $2,500 from Charles Swiderski. Clovis M. Ducray, who was brought into the case as a party defendant, through an action by Swiderski, is not to pay anything. He was the driver of the car in which his mother was killed at the intersection of the New Castle-Slippery Rock road and the Perry highway.

No testimony was offered by the defense, owing to the negotiations for a settlement, started at the conclusion of the plaintiff's testimony.

The beer people shouldn't care. Where there is no drinking on the premises there will be none on the house.

PRINTED GOWNS SHOW NEW DETAILS

Many printed chiffon frocks were shown for evening in recent collections. Two are sketched. At the left a small red design on a brown background. The gown has narrow panels in the skirt with pointed, shirred sections around the hips. A mass of frills goes around the armholes and forms a cape in the back. The other frock is a pretty design of gray and pink clouds and little black birds. The skirt has a wide flounce below the knees.

Hands Across the Border

A neighbor's greeting was extended Prime Minister R. W. Bennett (left), of Canada, by Secretary of State Cordell Hull as the Canadian Premier arrived in Washington for his conferences with President Roosevelt. Secretary Hull headed the delegation that welcomed the visiting statesman at Union Station.

MAJOR DEMOTED TO A PRIVATE

Major, White House "police dog," is in deep disgrace. He has been muzzled and will be kept away from visitors. Major tried to bite Prime Minister Richard Bennett of Canada and Senator Hattie Caraway of Arkansas. Mr. Bennett's trousers suffered. Mrs. Caraway's right arm was bruised by scratches.

City Pays Off Part Of Loans

Municipal Director of Finance Albert Hoyland today announced that the city has paid off notes to local banking institutions amounting to $65,000, leaving a balance of $25,000, remaining to be met.

The city borrowed $90,000, for the payment of expenses until the arrival of 1933 taxes was sufficient to meet current debts.

One note amounting to $35,000, has been paid off at the Citizens National bank and the other note amounting to $30,000, was paid off at the First National bank, he stated.

CLASSES ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Nellie Woodruff, Oak street, and Mrs. Nevada Snyder, were hostesses to the members of the J. O. Y. and Baraca classes of the First Baptist church in the home of the former Thursday evening, with fifty in attendance.

Each class held a business session, after which a joint social hour was enjoyed, with plans made for a rival of 1933 taxes was sufficient to meet current debts.

You'll notice, however, that no other nation changes its selfish policies in an effort to save the world.

But the alarmists saw no danger in the buy-at-home idea until America followed Europe's example.

New Strikes Bring Golden Days Back In B. C. Mining

(International News Service)
QUESNEL, B. C. — "Dealers in gold dust and nuggets." Such signs, reminiscent of gold rush days, are being dusted off and now adorn many business houses in this district since mining activity reached fever heat due to strikes near Barkerville. Tourists and miners alike get a distinct "kick" out of seeing prospectors throw their "pokes of gold" on the counter and watch intently while the dust is being weighed. Many of the scales were used during early gold rush days.

TOWN SUED AFTER GETTING OUT SCRIP

(International News Service)
MAGRATH, Can.—Suit is being brought against this town as a result of issuing scrip during a period of currency shortage. Demanding the reward provided in a law which prohibits use of any kind of paper to take the place of legal currency, the plaintiff is suing the town to collect $400 he would have received as an informer's reward. Declaring the issuance of scrip by the town was in violation of the Bank Act, the plaintiff claims the town should pay him the amount he would have ordinarily received as a reward.

Miss Bankhead is wearing a novel black and white evening dress with flower-trimmed short sleeves. Mrs. Barrymore is attired in a striking afternoon ensemble of horizontal and vertical stripes.

COLOR NEEDED; SETS OWN HOUSE AFIRE

(International News Service)
PRAGUE.—In order to get the necessary local color for a novel which he is writing, entitled "Burning of a Department Store," Wilhelm Schwarm of Reichenberg, North Bohemia, set fire to the house in which he resided.

The attempt proved to be a fiasco, however, for the fire was quickly extinguished by the local fire department, and the novelist arrested and jailed by the police.

PROHIBITION REPEAL MEANS NOTHING HERE

(International News Service)
PORT MORGAN, Colo. — Port Morgan is, and always has been, dry, not because of state or federal prohibition laws or because of city ordinances, but because its founder, Abner S. Baker, and his wife, Sarah, were ardent prohibitionists.

Baker, who plotted the townsite in 1884, inserted a clause in all the deeds to town lots stipulating that if at any time the property was used for the sale of liquor, it would revert to the original owner or his heirs. The provisions against selling liquor have never been invoked, and many attorneys doubt if they could be enforced.

Poignant Story of Depression

Probably present economic conditions have produced no more poignant story of stark misery than that surrounding the birth of Baby Ruth to Mrs. Marian Sullivan, shown here in a Philadelphia hospital. Destitute, and weary from her long search for work, Mrs. Sullivan gave birth to her baby in a Philadelphia street, where she was found by two boys returning from a dance in the small hours of the morning. The poor woman had wrapped her own threadbare clothes about the mite to protect it from cold. Her husband is seeking a job in Chicago.

Beer Brings New Demand For Cheese

(International News Service)
NEW YORK—A cheese famine is threatening. With the return of beer, and its boon companion "Cheese on rye," the cheese makers are busy. According to the largest of the wholesale cheese manufacturers here, sales of various cheeses have increased from 24 to 100 per cent since beer's return.

The most conspicuous increase in demand are among the dessert cheeses which are most associated with beer, such as Camembert, Limburger and Swiss. Some producers are particularly affected. They find themselves in a position not unlike that of the brewers, since four weeks are required for aging some brands and stocks have been exhausted.

The drain upon cheese stocks is expected to result in a substantial increase in milk consumption by the cheese manufacturers.

Burning Coal In Smoking Mountain

(International News Service)
BOULDER, Colo.—The smoking hills of Marshall, Colo., a few miles southeast of here, recently came in for considerable attention from scientists at the University of Colorado here. Prof. Phillip G. Worcester of the geology department at the university said that the outpouring of smoke, which has been going on for the past 50 years, was similar in origin to that which has caused Carbon Mountain, near Durango, in the southwest part of the state, to smoke and slide during the past few months.

Professor Worcester said the smoking was caused by the burning of subterranean coal beds under sand hills. The fire was probably started by spontaneous combustion, he said.

OLD VOUCHER

(International News Service)
DENVER—A United States forestry service voucher for $3 issued on July 25, 1910 to William Wiseman for services, was recently turned over to government officials here for collection. J. I. Leonard Skeggs Commits Suicide

General Secretary Of Youngstown Y. M. C. A. Dies In Tampa Hospital

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 5.—Leonard T. Skeggs, 43, on leave of absence as general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. here, died Thursday in the Tampa (Fla.) Municipal hospital of complications resulting from self-inflicted bullet wounds.

Skeggs shot himself Saturday near the office of a Tampa psychiatrist who had been treating him for several months. Pneumonia developed Tuesday. Physicians suddenly decided Thursday that an abdominal operation was necessary. Skeggs regained consciousness after the operation.

Skeggs, a native of Green Springs, who had served as superintendent of Huron and Milan schools, came here in 1919. In 1923 he became general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Under his leadership the association expanded its work considerably.

The crowning achievement was a $1,000,000 expansion program financed in 1929 by Youngstown citizens to help persuade Skeggs to refuse an offer from the Buffalo Y. M. C. A. At the dinner intended to launch the drive, it was announced that the quota already had been subscribed and that there would be no campaign.

Skeggs, who headed the Youngstown Rotary club in 1923, became district governor in 1925. Two years later he was elected second vice president of Rotary International. Skeggs headed two Community Chest drives and other civic campaigns here. Last year, after a nervous breakdown, he was given a furlough and went to Florida with his wife and three children.

The best way to keep your faith in love is never to get into a helpless state where you must yell for succor.

Defying physicians' warnings that resumption of her dancing career might induce a return of paralysis by which she has been bedridden for the past two and one-half years, lovely Bee Lockhardt returned to the terpsichore in a New York night club recently. The other day those same physicians admitted that the exercise of dancing had worked a miracle upon the limbs of the young brunette. They pronounced her completely cured.

May Give Approval To Trial Marriage

(International News Service) DENVER—Companionate or trial marriages may receive the sanction of Colorado law under possible interpretations of a recent measure passed by the state legislature. The law, enacted for the purpose of removing the stigma of illegitimacy from children born to minors whose marriage is later annulled, was declared by district judges informally to have the effect of establishing companionate marriage. Annulment may be granted solely on the ground that one of the parties is under 18 years of age at the time of the marriage, under the provisions of the new law.

FRANCE OPENS FIGHT AGAINST SUICIDES

(International News Service) PARIS—Prospective suicides will have to think three days ahead of firing if a new proposal embodied in the Cheron Bill passes the Chamber of Deputies. The ease with which firearms are obtainable here and the frequency of their use in suicide has caused alarm. It is believed there would be fewer suicides and murders if it were more difficult to obtain immediate possession of firearms. The latest scheme provides vendors of revolvers must deliver them to the address given by the purchaser and that an interval of at least three days must be allowed to elapse before delivery is made.

Lawmaker Gets Job Mopping Up Floors

(International News Service) DENVER—Pedro A. Gonzales, a former representative in the Colorado state legislature, now has a job mopping floors. Gonzales explained that following his term in the legislature his wife did not wish to return to their former home in Walsenburg, because she thought their children would benefit more in Denver schools. So Gonzales obtained an appointment as a janitor in the capitol building.

LOW-PRICED ELECTRIC BULBS GO UNDER BAN

(International News Service) TORONTO—Sale of sub-standard electric light bulbs will be prohibited in Ontario, Canada, after May 1. The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission has advised retailers through the Province that the sub-standard bulbs must be discontinued as soon as present stocks have been exhausted. Merchants will not be permitted to purchase new supplies of lamp bulbs unless they conform to Hydro's standards and have obtained approval certificates. Stringent penalties are provided for violation of the new regulations.

Latin Scholars To Compete Saturday

Senior High's Study Hall Will Be Scene For Junior High Tourney

The semi-annual Latin tournament for each 9-A class of the two junior high schools of New Castle is to be held Saturday, May 6, at 8:45 a. m. in study II at the senior high school. The consul of the Senatus Romanus, Heber Baldwin, co-operating with the Latin senators and the Latin teachers have complete charge of the tournament. The tests consist of verb, noun, adjective and adverb forms, prose, translation and other essential phases of Latin.

For several weeks the 9-A classes have been studying exceptionally hard in hopes that they might win the honors for their respective schools.

The three contestants who rank highest in the final computation of grades will become members of the Senatus Romanus. In addition to being awarded membership in this club, the one ranking first will receive a bronze medal with his initials engraved on it and the inscription "Summa Cum Laude". In case the winners are from the George Washington junior high school and do not come to the Lincoln avenue school, they will be honorary members of the society.

Hi-Y Keeps Busy, Plans For Picnic After School Ends

What is the Hi-Y doing? That is always an interesting question. This is the latest news:

At the last meeting, election of officers was the chief item of interest. The results are as follows: President, Howard K. Rumbaugh; vice-president, James P. Marshall; secretary, Ralph A. Davies; treasurer, Bill B. Bovard. We congratulate these officers and wish them the best of luck.

Plans were made for the annual picnic, which is to be held at the close of school, and for the initiation of new members. The club has made excellent progress during the past season and has good prospects for the future.

Thursday morning an unusual pep chapel was staged under the supervision of the student council. Several announcers were broadcasting. The scene was the football field. One Patient In Fifty Years New Hospital Record

(International News Service)
LONDON—One patient in 50 years is the unique record of the Port hospital at Sutton Bridge, County Lincoln, which was opened in August, 1883. And the hospital records show that this solitary patient died. Despite the lack of patients, however, a staff consisting of a doctor, matron, nurse and caretaker are maintained at the hospital. Miss Burton, the matron, has been at the hospital for 40 years, and is still waiting for her first patient.

YOU CAN'T LOSE by BUYING YOUR CLOTHES NOW

Last week, raw wool prices went up. This week, the woolen mills have raised their fabric prices. Linings are very much higher. Cotton goods have gone up. The same is true of all the other materials that go into men's clothes.

It's as plain as plain can be that now is the time to buy clothes.

You have everything to gain, and you can't lose ... for while we don't know how much higher clothes prices will be, we do know that they surely won't be lower.

Fine Woolen and Worsted TROUSERS $2 to $4.50

And while we're on the subject of clothes, bear in mind that ours are made in our own tailoring shops and sold in our own stores without wholesale overhead expense or middleman's profit. This means finer fabrics, better workmanship, newer and fresher styles, and incomparably greater value.

Girl Scout Troops Planning For Camp

Girls Looking Forward To Early August; Sharon Scouts To Join Them

Sharon Girl Scouts will camp with the locals this year at Camp Phillips, the first two weeks of August. Plans for the two week period are being shaped by the New Castle camp committee. A meeting of the committee was conducted Thursday afternoon and two women from the Sharon Girl Scout organization, Mrs. Jeffries, camp chairman, and Mrs. Cashman, were present and took part in the discussion.

It will be an unusually large camp crowd this year and a competent staff of counselors is being chosen to have charge of the many and varied activities. Home talent will be used as much as possible. There will be a pre-camp training period of two days for the counselors.

Camp will be run on the "unit" system. The huts are being moved farther apart and it is believed that the system will work out even more successfully than in previous summers. The pioneer unit will be removed to a higher and drier location.

Girls who wish to attend are being asked to register promptly with their captains.

The local camp committee consists of Mrs. W. H. Hanger, chairman, Mrs. R. J. Robinson, Mrs. Albert Treser, Mrs. John Higgins and Miss Helen Wilson.

SUMMER COURSE IN ATHLETIC COACHING

COLLEGEVILLE, Pa., May 5—With "professors" recruited from the ranks of men prominent in athletics, Ursinus College intends to inaugurate a summer school course in athletic coaching this year.

The course will begin immediately after the close of the regular school term in June and instructions will continue until Labor Day. Because of the prominence of the "pros," the registration list is expected to be heavy and will include coaches from many colleges and high schools of the east.

TURKISH TOBACCO

comes to this country in bales. The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO

is stored in huge wooden hogsheads. Each hogshead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Turkish tobacco is to Cigarettes what Seasoning is to Food

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

This tobacco is known generally as Turkish tobacco; but there are as many varieties of Turkish as there are kinds of apples.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

ACID STOMACH EASY NOW TO CORRECT

Just Do One Thing—That's All

According to many authorities, some 80% of the people of today have acid stomach. This is because so many foods, comprising the modern diet, are acid forming foods.

It usually makes itself felt in sour stomach, indigestion, headaches, nausea, "gas," "biliousness," and most frequently in stomach pains that come about thirty minutes after eating. So you can easily tell if you have it.

Now Quickly and Easily Corrected

If you do have acid stomach, don't worry about it. You can correct it in a very simple manner. Just do this. It will alkalize your acid soaked stomach almost immediately. You will feel like another person. TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia with a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia

Neutralizes Food and Tobacco Acids a few minutes after taking.

What This Does

That's all you do. But you do it regularly, EVERY DAY, so long as you have any symptoms of distress.

This acts to neutralize the stomach acids that foster your "upset" stomach, that invite headaches and that feeling of lassitude and lost energy.

Try it. Results will amaze you. Your head will be clear. You'll forget you have a stomach.

BUT—be careful that you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy: genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "Phillips" is stamped clearly on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM:

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

HUNDREDS SHARE MUSIC FESTIVAL PROGRAM

Thousand Sing In One Chorus

Large Crowd Hears School
Children In Cathedral
Thursday Night

MANY FEATURES DURING EVENING

A large audience at the Cathedral last night enjoyed the third annual school music festival which over 1,000 well rehearsed elementary junior high and senior high school student singers joined to present for the public's approval.

Through the spacious auditorium waves of heavy applause rolled time and time again, reflecting the appreciation which the community listeners had for the participating groups. There were six primary choruses of grade school buildings, six intermediate school choruses, a sixth grade chorus and the senior high school group taking part.

Under the leadership of their respective music teachers the different school groups marched to a small platform on the stage and sang their numbers.

At the opening of the program and at different intervals during the evening, Garth Edmundson, local organist, played on the mighty organ numbers of his own composition. The organ strains helped to enrich the fine vocal program which the pupils gave.

Program Ably Handled.

The three-part festival, staged under the direction of Miss Gladys Rich, music supervisor for the schools, was ably managed and the entire program was produced without one hitch. Groups entered and left the stage rapidly, bringing no delay whatever during the program.

Participants came from the Oak street, Thaddeus Stevens, North street, Rose avenue, Mahoning, Terrace, Highland avenue, Aiken, Pollock, Croton, Arthur McGill, Lincoln-Garfield and the senior high school.

Featuring the program was the appearance of the girls' trio of the senior high school, second place winners in a recent state contest at Sunbury. The girls were Mary Virginia Roberts, Ruth Wilkison and Cecelia Hasulak.

Massed Chorus Sing.

During the closing moments, just following the singing of the trio, a combined junior and senior high school festival chorus united to sing under Miss Rich's direction. Immediately following that the 1,000 participants joined to sing "Now the Day is Over". A tenor solo was sung by Sam Dennis.

So large a crowd did the singers make that the entire main floor was reserved for them. They filed quietly out of their seats and back when time came for their numbers. Both balconies held the audience.

The New Castle music teachers worked diligently to produce the entertaining program, and their efforts were well repaid by the crowded hall that heard the festival numbers.

Charity will benefit from the proceeds derived from the small admission price charged. The money will be used to help undernourished children.

THIRTEEN SPADES TOO MUCH; PLAYER JUST DROPS HAND

(International News Service)

DETROIT — The shock of picking up 13 spades in a bridge game was too much for Marie Allen, 18. She was too flabbergasted to bid on the hand. Instead she spread it breathlessly out on the table.

"Isn't it grand!" she gasped. Her opponents consented to the scoring of an undoubted grand slam with 100 honors.

Opposition To 30-Hour Week

Iron, Steel, Packing And

Oppose Move

SPOKESMEN APPEAR BEFORE COMMITTEE

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON May 5.—Spokesmen for iron, steel and packing industries and newspapers told the house labor committee Thursday afternoon that the Black 30 hour week, 6-hour day bill would work a hardship on each business.

Former Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont spoke for the American Iron and Steel Institute; M. D. Harding, of Chicago, and George M. Foster, of Ottumwa, Ia., for the packers, and Harvey J. Kelly for the American newspaper Publishers Association.

Lamont denied that loss of employment through labor-saving machines is a serious factor in the present unemployment situation.

"I have every confidence that American industry, by voluntary adjustments in hour and days, if necessary, will take up the slack as it has in the past without the necessity of radically changing our whole philosophy of government," he said. He quoted estimates of the National Industrial Conference Board that a 6-hour day would give jobs to only 1,000,000 additional workers. The steel industry, he reported, now is averaging less than 25 hours a week.

Kelly told the committee the newspaper publishing business would be disrupted by the 6-hour day.

HIDDEN MONEY FOUND IN AN OLD CHIMNEY

DUNKIRK, Pa., May 5.—Old folks advise taking a second look before abandoning an object that has aroused curiosity at a passing glance.

Frank Irey, Monongahela repairman, says they are right.

Investigating further a shining speck that caught his eye while he worked on a fireplace in an abandoned Dunkirk house, Irey dug up two old wallets. In them he found four silver dollars, several smaller coins and paper currency. Dates on the money indicated it was concealed many years ago.

MRS. CLARK WILL FACE JUNE COURT

Waives Hearing On Theft Charge; Husband Given Hearing, Also Held

Waiving her aldermanic hearing for court, Mrs. Bruce Clark of Cleveland was returned to the Lawrence county jail on Thursday to await a June trial on charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods, placed against her by the New Castle Dry Goods company following a robbery at the store last Saturday night. Mrs. Clark's husband, choosing to face a hearing on a charge of being an accessory to the theft, both before and after, was held by Alderman Wallace J. Ewing for trial at the same time.

The two were returned to New Castle after Youngstown police, notified by local police, halted their automobile flight after the robbery. Mrs. Clark was immediately brought back while Mr. Clark agreed to return later. Alderman Ewing heard the husband's case, in which the couple's attorney sought to clear him of the accessory charge which Chief of Police John F. Haven made. District Attorney John S. Powers, representing the commonwealth, asked that he be held. A crowded courtroom heard the case. Because the couple's bail, set at $1,500 for Mrs. Clark and $1,000 for her husband was not met, both were remanded to jail.

Convention Is Discussed

Plans Being Made For County Sunday School Gathering In June

COMMITTEE MEETS THURSDAY NIGHT

The coming county convention which is to be held at the First Methodist church Thursday, June 8th, morning, afternoon and evening sessions, was the chief matter of discussion at the regular monthly meeting of the executive committee of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, which was held Thursday evening at the Y. W. C. A.

Reports showed that a splendid program is being prepared and that the afternoon session would be a rally of the women's adult classes of the county, and the evening session would be a rally of the men's adult classes. Suitable awards will be presented to both having the best records.

Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, acting secretary and children's division superintendent, reported a very successful children's division institute at the First Christian church, stating that this was the best ever held in Lawrence county.

Miss Alice Grimes, the young people's superintendent, suggested some activities that the young people could take in connection with the convention; and D. M. Marshall, vice president, suggested that the time be so arranged that it would be suitable to both those observing daylight savings and eastern standard time.

George B. Wilson, president of Ellwood district, reported that the delegation from that city would probably come for all three sessions and that some means should be provided to take care of the meals for them.

Mrs. R. H. Nesbitt, the teacher training superintendent, reported the activities in her department and Harry W. Brown, vice president, gave the names of the newly elected superintendent in Ellwood City.

J. H. Lusk, president of Wilmington district, reported that the Wilmington district convention would be held as customary, shortly after the county convention, and that a meeting was being held in the near future to make plans for this.

The president, Robert M. Strickler Jr., stated that the convention program would contain four conferences: adult and administrative, led by B. A. McGarvey of the state staff; children's division conference, led by Miss Ione V. Sikes of the state staff; young people's conference, led by Miss Alice Grimes, and temperance department, led by Dr. William Parsons, assisted by Miss Margaret Walker.

Pugilistic Twins

Looking enough alike to be taken for twins, Jack Dempsey (right), and Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, both former world's champions, are pictured strolling in the rustic confines of the Lake Swannanoa country club, where Schmeling has established training quarters. Der Max is to do battle with Max Baer of California in New York June 8th under the promotional banner of Dempsey.

Given Federal Post

Guy T. Helvering, former Governor of Kansas, who has been appointed Commissioner of Internal Revenue by President Roosevelt. Fifty-five years old, Helvering is a veteran of the Spanish-American War. He served on the powerful Ways and Means Committee as a member of the 64th and 65th Congresses.

Head of "Finest"

A new portrait of Police Commissioner James S. Bolan, who heads New York's police force, the largest in the world. Commissioner Bolan rose from the ranks, having started as an ordinary patrolman. He succeeded Edward P. Mulrooney, who became "Czar" of New York's beer board.

Americanism: Feeling disgraced because of the wicked bandits: cheering the entertainer who steals his ideas and his material.

Turner Economy Bill Heads For Governor's Veto

Pinchot Almost Sure To Veto Turner Bill, Skips Legislative Barrier

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, May 3.—Threatened with a veto ever since it was introduced, the Turner bill (house No. 22) skipped the final legislative hurdle in the house early today and headed for the governor's office to meet its doom.

Rep. Ellwood J. Turner, Delaware, its sponsor, saved the bill, which revises the state administrative code, reduces salaries and consolidates several bureaus, by mustering sufficient strength to concur in senate amendments by a 105 to 90 vote. The house previously had denied concurrence but surrendered to the insistence of the upper branch.

C. M. T. C. Group Gets Mounted Drill Thursday

Very Successful And Instructive Meeting Is Held At Armory Stables

The Lawrence county group of C. M. T. C. young men held a very successful and instructive meeting Thursday evening at Troop F armory, where about four squads in all received some very good drill in the use of horses.

The instruction was given under the supervision of Captain Harvey G. Bintrim, commanding officer of Troop F. The members of the group met at the stables at 6:30 o'clock and went through some saddling exercises, then different paces on the horses and ended up with a mile ride. It was one of the most successful of these C. M. T. C. group meetings yet held.

New Mexico Recalls Miner With Faith

(International News Service) MORGON, N. M.—The recent death in England of Sir Ernest Craig, revived memories in the minds of old timers here of how the English nobleman once sank a fortune into the ground before realizing his hope that precious metals could be found beneath the hills of southwestern Catron county. Craig spent his entire fortune and many dreary months sinking shafts into the ground before "striking it rich."

His faith was rewarded, however, and a few years later he sold his interest for a fortune and returned to England.

Wonderful machine age! A few thousand know how to make machines and the others push buttons that are fool-proof.

Economy: Saving the 500 million given to men because they were veterans; giving men 500 million because they are jobless.

DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples. If neglected, it can seriously impair health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

The resolution has been approved by the house and now goes to the governor for the signature that will make it effective.

Sponsored by Rep. Thomas J. Gallagher, Allegheny, the measure provides for the creation of a committee of three senators, four representatives and three persons to be appointed by the governor. The group will report the results of its study to the 1935 assembly.

Sealer Of Weights Makes April Report

Oil Pumps Found In Good Shape But Many Gasoline Pumps Adjusted

County Sealer of weights and measures, L. W. Houk, has prepared his report for the month of April. The greatest work was done in testing oil pumps, 355 being inspected. They were found to be generally correct, only three needing adjusting.

Gasoline pumps of which 183 were inspected, told a different story. Eight were found to be incorrect, and 44 had to be adjusted.

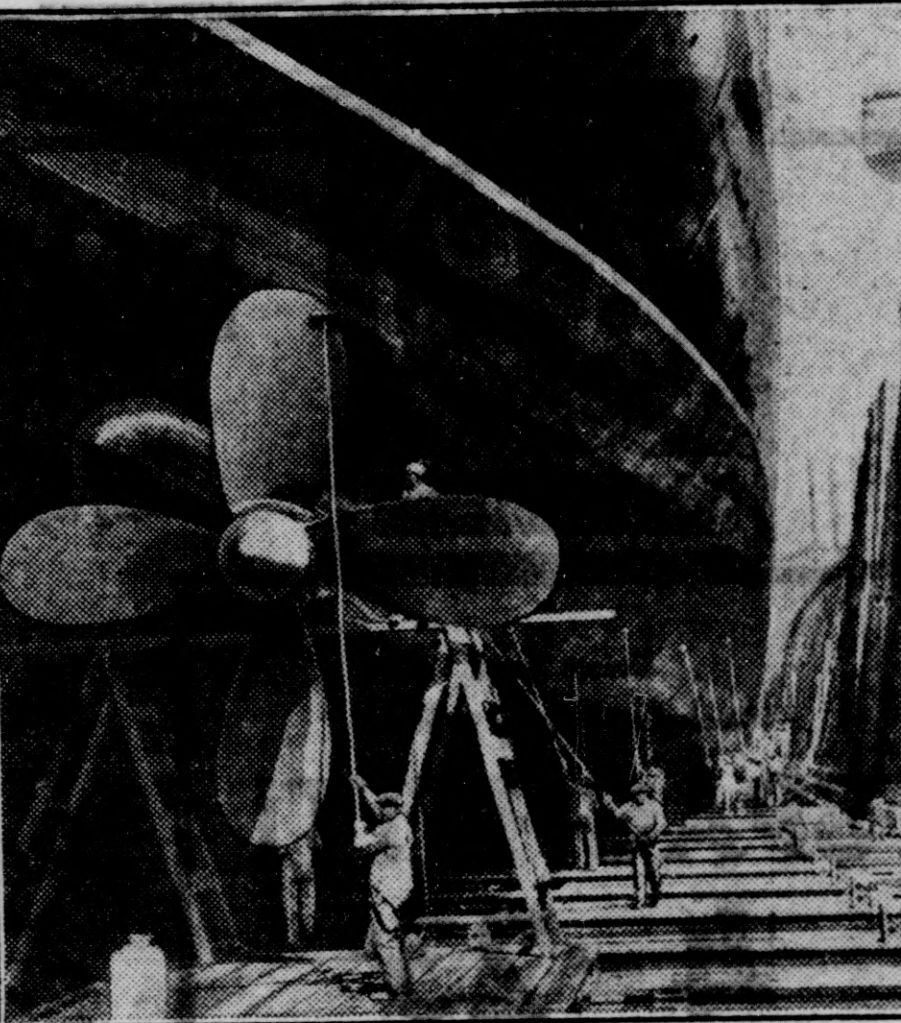

No deficiencies were found in 967 liquid measures. Three wagon scales were found to be correct and two were adjusted. Three spring balances were found correct, also ten computing scales. Four had to be adjusted. Fifty packages of goods inspected were all found to come up to standard.

Ready to Fan Neptune's Brow

This unusual view of the United States liner Washington, high and dry in drydock at New York, shows a fine closeup of one of her gigantic propellers. The new craft, the latest addition to the American merchant marine, is a sister ship to the liner Manhattan. She was built in the United States at a cost of $10,000,000 and will start her maiden voyage across the Atlantic on May 10 under the command of Captain George Fried, hero of many thrilling sea rescues.

Hundreds Apply For Positions As School Teachers

Probably 800 Applications For Places In New Castle Received

So many applications for teaching positions have been filed with Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, in the past 60 days that no attempt has been made to count them. An estimate of the applications would be between 750 and 800, with 200 of them local men and women.

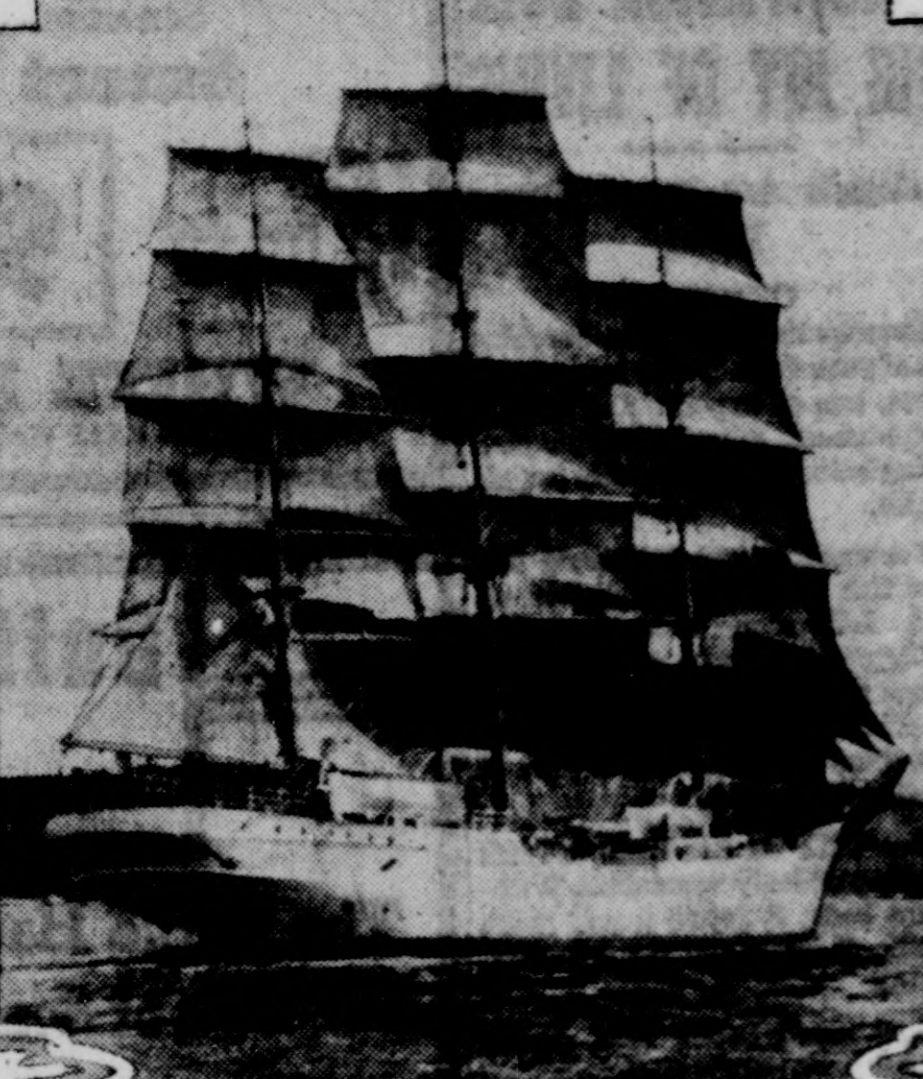

"We never had as many applications before," said Green, "but of the nearly 800 we have, the ones to receive first consideration will be the New Castle applications and there are 200 of these."

"It is probable that the turnover of teachers this year will be very small, so that it appears doubtful that many of even the New Castle applicants would be successful."

Included in the host of applications are teachers of every subject in the curriculum. Many of the out of town applications are from teachers in districts that have been unable to pay their force, others come from graduates of the colleges in this district, and still others from teachers who were not placed in their local communities last year.

The surplus of teachers at the present time is larger than it ever was in the history of education in Pennsylvania.

Fair Bound With a Fair Wind

The Norwegian training ship Sorlandet makes a pretty picture as, with every inch of canvas spread to the wind, she starts from Oslo, Norway, for her trip to the United States. The ship, manned by naval cadets, between the ages of 15 and 17, is headed for Montreal, Canada, whence she will sail up the Great Lakes to Chicago, where she will be exhibited at the Century of Progress Exposition.

Two Army Planes Enroute
To Southern California
From New York,
Crack-up

WERE PART OF
FLYING SQUADRON

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5—Two United States Army planes flying from Mitchell field to southern California for the war maneuvers, cracked up at county airport Thursday.

No one was hurt. Both planes were badly damaged.

The planes were flying with a squadron of six which took off from Mitchell field this morning.

The first plane, piloted by Lieut. Lindsay Bawel, with Sgt. R. Petek aboard, crashed when the motors failed from lack of gas as the ship, a new type observation craft, came in for a landing.

Shortly afterward, the plane piloted by Col. John H. Howard, in command of the flight, nosed over when a wheel broke as he taxied down the field.

Jesus Faces The Cross

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Luke 9:51, "As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise."

(The international uniform lesson on the above topic for May 7 is Mark 10:32-33, "The Golden Text being Luke 9:51, 'And it came to pass when the days were well-nigh come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem.'")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Within a month of his crucifixion Jesus sets out with his disciples on the way to Jerusalem and for the third time he forecasts for them the cross in all its gruesome details, that, forewarned they may be forearmed. "Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of Man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and the scribes; and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles; and they shall mock him and spit upon him, and shall kill him; and after three days he shall rise again."

The Cross As a Goal

The cross had in it no element of accident or surprise for Jesus. It was in no sense the result of a miscarriage of purpose of his. Isaiah had prophesied that he would "set" his face like a flint toward these experiences which Jesus now foretells in detail. It was this flint-like determination upon his face that amazed and terrified his disciples who knew that face so well, but who saw in it now something they had never seen before. "And they were on the way, going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going before them:

and they were amazed; and they that followed were afraid." Thus "the Son of Man goes forth to war." Thus "he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem" and to the cross—"set his face like a flint." Knowing all that the cross held in store for him of physical and spiritual death as the wages of sin he set himself deliberately and determinedly to make the ransom—"to give his life a ransom for many." The cross was his goal.

The Crown As a Goal

Far from entering into sympathy with their Master and sharing the fellowship of these things of the cross to which he is setting himself with such amazing and terrifying tenacity, his disciples were setting themselves to get some personal preferment out of the crisis that seemed to be impending. So James and John, with their mother abetting them, come requesting, "Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand and one on thy left hand, in thy glory." And when the ten heard it they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John.

Service As a Goal

The incident precipitated Christ's teaching on the glory of humble service of others as over against the false glamor of being served by others: "Ye know that they who are accounted to rule over the Gentiles lord it over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them. But it is not so among you; but whosoever would become great among you shall be your minister; and whosoever would be first among you, shall be servant of all. For the Son of Man also came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life as a ransom for many."

He came from the heavens to serve and not to be served. His ideal of greatness is not that of a pyramid with the great one the topmost, supported by all, but rather of an inverted pyramid with the greatest at the bottom supporting all—a teaching he immediately illustrated by healing blind Bartimeus. The way of the cross is the way of serving love.

RECRUITING IS HALTED FOR TIME

Troop F, 103rd cavalry, will hold its regular drill this evening at the stables, when mounted formations will be practiced.

Recruiting in the troop has been suspended, Capt. Harvey G. Bintrim states, under orders from the adjutant general of the state. The troop is now at full strength.

Whether the troop will go to Mt. Gretna for the regular summer encampment is not definitely known at the present time. There has been considerable discussion of abandoning the summer training period this year, but definite information in this regard has not as yet been received here.

The troop has been making splendid progress, and with a veteran organization it has become one of the crack units in the Pennsylvania National Guard.

New Castle And Canton Play Here Tonight

New Castle High Set For Great Game With Strong Ohio Eleven

Coach Philip Bridenbaugh Gives New Castle Final Instructions

Game To Start At 9 o'Clock Daylight Time; Canton Will Send Big Crowd

Canton McKinley high school football team, potential champions of the state of Ohio will come to Taggart Field this city tonight to test the calibre of a fighting New Castle high school football machine prepared by Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh. The spring grid game will start at 9 o'clock Daylight Savings Time. The battle looms as one of the best New Castle fans have had a chance to see for many years. In event of good weather the spacious playground of the New Castle high school football team will be jammed to near capacity. About 750 to 1,000 fans will come here from Canton for the game. This is New Castle's second spring venture, the first game having been a 20 to 0 upset of Campbell Memorial high.

McKinley Big School. Canton McKinley high is the biggest high school that New Castle has ever met. There is only one high school in Canton to serve the population of over 100,000 and the enrollment is well over the 3,000 mark. It would only be quite natural for Coach Jimmy Aiken to be greeted by a wealth of material for his football machines.

Last year Canton lost three games and this year they hope to win the state championship. This is the second year for Aiken at Canton McKinley, he having served as head grid coach previously at Scott, high, Toledo, and turned out many championship teams. The Aiken teams use a combination of the Warner and Notre Dame systems, with a specialty laid on the Warner system, but the Canton team uses the double wing backs and the majority of the Canton plays are directed through tackle and around the ends. Passing also is given quite some attention by the McKinley backs. Jurkovich and Huff throw the majority of the passes.

New Castle Fighters. The fans of New Castle are going to see a well coached and fast high school football team. Canton firmly believes the state championship will be theirs next fall, and they want to get started on the right foot by taking over the New Castle team.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his stalwart charges may have another idea about this being licked tonight. In fact no New Castle team is beaten until the last whistle has been blown. New Castle has always been noted for fighting machines, and this year is no exception. Against Campbell high the boys

Lineups For Tonight

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh of New Castle high school and Coach Jimmy Aiken, of Canton McKinley high, have announced their starting lineups tonight as follows. The game will be played at Taggart field. The starting time is 9 o'clock Daylight Time. The New Castle team will appear in black and white jerseys, and Canton will wear red jerseys.

looked very good. They will look a lot better tonight. There has been a lot of conditioning this week. The rough places have been smoothed out.

Watch Shopwell. Shopwell is the man who Canton will look to for victory. This young man is the center and plays a roving position. He is very good at diagnosing plays and is clever at pointing out weaknesses. He will be the man Canton will build their defense and offense around. Pitted against this great center will be young Joe Howley, an ambitious snapper-back and a good one. Howley played a fine game against Campbell, and promises to be even better tonight.

F. Shellogg At End. Bridenbaugh is not sure about three of his starting positions for tonight. It will either be Humphrey or Sorto at right guard and either Miles or Perrett at right end. The left halfback job is to be divided between Anderson and Jones, with the former having the edge and a possible starter. Jones will be given a chance to get under way sometime during the game, it is indicated.

Fred Shellogg is an improved player this year at his new position at end and will be invaluable to the Bridenbaugh machine this fall. Fred likes the game and enjoys playing end, where last week he was a big worry to the Campbell backfield men, spilling them consistently for large losses. Alex Shellogg is at his old post at right tackle and better than ever. This big fellow, W. P. L. A. L. tackle last year, is feared by all opponents. He charges fast and is a deadly tackler. Flanking the Shelloggs boys will be Palkovitch, a big 190-pounder, at left tackle, with Raskowski at left guard.

Depends On Backfield. A lot depends on the New Castle backfield tonight. This Canton team hopes to match the locals man for man in ability to carry the ball, to pass and kick. If they can get around Walter Kominic, the big New Castle captain and fullback, they will be doing something. Kominic with a year's experience on his shoulders is driving harder than ever this year and, well when old powerhouse hurls his 170 pounds of iron at that line something must give. A lot depends also on the way Anderson and Jones get started against this big Canton team. The two boys in mention are the fastest on the squad. Ridley or Kneram at quarterback will have a lot to do towards the success of the team.

Want Good Weather. If the weatherman will only give New Castle and Canton a break in their grid game here tonight, the Taggart arena is going to see a big crowd. This is the first time that New Castle high has ever met a team. New Castle wants to make a real impression on the visitors. New Castle will show courtesy to the fans, the visiting team and players. Let's show Canton that if they send 1,000 fans here for the battle, that New Castle can turn out 2,000 strong.

The big motorcade will start from Canton about 4 or 5 o'clock and will likely reach New Castle by 7:30 at the latest. Canton is excited over this football game. New Castle is also eager for the fray.

The prices will be 10, 25, 50 and 75 cents. The gates will open at 7:30 o'clock. The game is on daylight time. The officials will be Fry, Merriman and Harr, the same three who handled the Campbell game.

The end of the spring training season has been reached by the New Castle high team and Coach Bridenbaugh sends his finest looking squad out on the greensward of Taggart stadium for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. Fan.

West Pittsburgh Defeated, 14-1

Castlewood Starts Batting In Sixth; Batters Three Pitchers

DOMBECK KEEPS HITS SCATTERED

Castlewood walloped West Pittsburgh 14 to 1 in an American division Lawrence league game at West Pittsburgh yesterday. The West Pittsburgh team made its only run in the opening inning. The run was scored by Fundoots. Ferrigno hit a triple and Blaine came through with a double.

After a flag raising ceremony three of the original Neshannocks of 1873—Bob Whaley, Ed Bigley and Joe McCaslin—were honored by the younger generation of players and fans and received an ovation as one hurled, another caught and a third batted.

Score Six Runs. Castlewood was one run behind until the third when they got to Brakovich and before the side had been retired six runners had crossed home plate. West Pittsburgh tried to stop the Castlewood bats by sending Banko to the mound but he gave way to Vessella, while Dombek held West Pittsburgh in his grip throughout the game. McCaslin, Ferrigno, F. Markey, Onicka and De Monaco each had an error.

Kentucky Derby Saturday Will Draw Thousands

Likely To Be From 14 To 17 Horses Start In Annual Classic

OWNERS POSTING FORFEITS TODAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—It is the final 30-odd hours before the running of the great Kentucky derby, where courage and greed and gallantry and heartbreak meet—and are one.

Down on the street level, the restless aimless stream moves on, intently going in some or other given direction, the point being without importance. It simply lends the performance an air of prestige and purpose. In other words, if they didn't go, they couldn't come back. This is Louisville, as the derby crowd knows it.

Off to the right by ten blocks is the sudden, tranquil stillness of lawns and trees and stately homes, unheeding the crowd and, by the crowd, unheeded. That is the other side of the story. The real side.

Money On Line.
Out at Churchill Downs, all is tranquility again, notably in the office of the racing secretary where those with horses entered must make known, finally and for the last time, whether their intentions are strictly honorable. Tomorrow afternoon at about 5 o'clock, central standard time, the star three-year-olds of America will run their hearts out for a mile and a quarter, while 60,000 people rave. But this morning their owners must post $500 with the management or they won't even start.

Briefly, it is now necessary for the owner to lay his ante on the line or pick up his surcharge and go elsewhere. A lot of them will do that. Anywhere from 14 to 17 won't.

On Muddy Track.
At this hour, in fact, it looks as though the following are certain to be declared, with the required token of good faith, in the overnight nominations:

Pompeoon is a possible, though doubtful starter. So is Good Advice. Likewise Silent Shot. They say the latter won't go if the track is fast, so that ought to bring him up to the barrier, snorting, pawing and ready to go, as it rained all night and the forecast for tomorrow is for more of the same. Some say this will have a pronounced effect on the result; others that there isn't a real mud in the field, discussion and acrimony being the soul of horse racing.

Ladysman Favored.
Either way, Ladysman, the two-year-old champion, is stoutly holding his place as the ranking favorite, although the contention is that his legs are not sound.

"Who has he beaten?" the doubters ask.
About everything in the field, is the answer to that one. But he did that in 1932, so that the matter isn't settled and won't be, until they step down past the judges late tomorrow afternoon.

Since it looks like the real estate around the Downs might be a little fluid, the question of mud-runners is not to be lightly dismissed. They say Kerry Patch likes it. He won the Belmont. Futurity but everybody seems to be paying him no heed. Head Play, they add, likes anything. So does Charley O. and Inlander, a good horse at a good price. Charley O. won the Florida derby, but it seems to be the motion that he isn't horse enough for anything like this.

In other words, Ladysman appears to maintain his position largely by elimination, just as he came to his present prominence through the withdrawal of Swivel, War Glory, Repaid, Utopian, Projectile and other noteworthy factors, including the entire Whitney fame.

Of the contention, only Head Play, Mr. Khayyam, which ran to a track record in Maryland last week, and Sarada are spoken of with respect. Head Play will have plenty of riding with him tomorrow. They like him here. They liked the way he beat Charley O. the other day, and they have the assurance that his leg, slightly cut in that race, is sound. Moreover, he is a western horse, which automatically makes him a good horse around here, and he only has to be pretty good to win tomorrow.

It's the most open race of recent years.

Tigers Outthit Peerless In Game On Lee Avenue Grounds

TWO DOUBLE PLAYS FEATURE GAME

Tigers and Peerless of the West Side clashed in an American loop, Lawrence league game on Lee avenue field Thursday and the Tigers clawed out an eight to four victory. The Tigers went ahead in the second inning at the end of which the score was five to three. Tigers outthit the Peerless.

Twenty three hits were made off the four hitters. Brincko started for the Tigers and gave way to Cannon who struck out seven batters. Carey started for the Peerless but was relieved by Wheale who fanned four.

Flock of Doubles
There was a flock of doubles, Otto, Wheale, Cowmeadow, McCormick and Brincko getting two base clouts. A pair of doubles were turned in one by Peerless and one by the Tigers. Otto and Wheale executed one nifty play and the other double was made by Cowmeadow and Gall.

The three individual batting stars were Otto, James and Cowmeadow. Each of them turned in three hits and Ellison, Heidish, McIntyre, Cowmeadow and Campbell broke into the error column. Wheale played a good game at right field and fielded his hurler's position good after relieving Carey. He had five assists.

Golf League Is Ready To Start

Season Will Open On May 25, And Schedule Will Be Drawn Up At Once

With twelve teams lined up, ready for the start of the season, the New Castle Golf League will get under way May 25. It was decided at a meeting of league officials and representatives held at the Municipal club house last evening. The by-laws and rules governing the play in the league, were presented by the rules committee and adopted at the meeting last evening, and all is now in readiness for the start except the adopting of a schedule.

Competition in the league is expected to be unusually keen this summer. Last year, the golfers got away to a late start, but by the end of the season, were functioning smoothly, and some interesting matches were played.

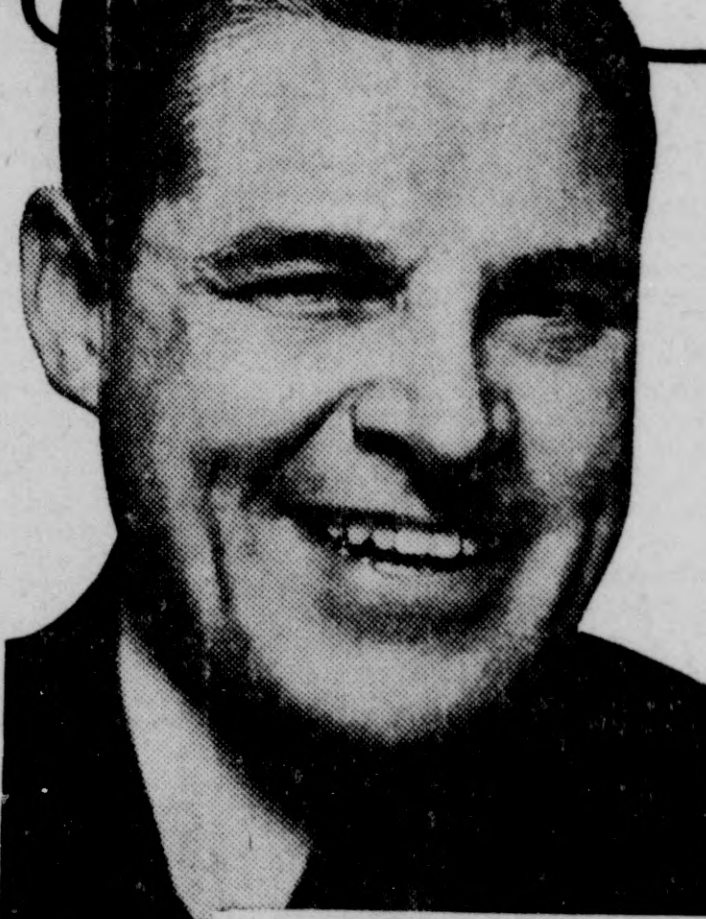

Injuries Fatal To Star Jockey

(International News Service)
PIMLICO, Md., May 5.—A pall of gloom was cast over the racing world today when Buddy Hanford, one of the outstanding jockeys developed in this country, died as a result of injuries received in a spill that marred the running of the sixth race here yesterday.

The Omaha youngster who soared to prominence in the short span of three years met his tragic death astride Mrs. J. Ambrose Clarke's Apprehensive, the famous sports woman whose silks were carried to victory in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, Liverpool by Kellsboro Jack.

Hanford died while being carried to the hospital in an ambulance which rushed to his aid as he lay prostrate on the track.

Geneva And Waynesburg To Meet Saturday At Reeves Stadium

FIRST EVENT TO START AT 1:30 P. M.

BEAVER FALLS, May 5.—The first Tri-State district test for the Geneva College track and field team occurs at Reeves Stadium here Saturday afternoon when Waynesburg arrives for a dual meet. Activity is slated to start at 2:30 o'clock but Athletic Director Edgecombe plans to get one event, the polevault, started at least one half hour earlier than scheduled time.

Geneva will enter the Waynesburg meet minus the services of their capable captain, Robert "Bibi" Evans of Zelenople. Evans is planning to withdraw from track and field work this season so as to retain a full year of athletic service for 1933-34. He was to have been an entrant in the high and low hurdles, sprints, and relay.

Spitz Holds Title
The main Geneva point scorers are expected to be Sauer and Brust in the sprints. Wilson and Withrow in the distance runs. Spencer and Dunn in the hurdles. Spencer, Sauer, Aultman and Ginsberg in the jumps, and Rupp and Beg in other field events.

Waynesburg has been accomplishing some excellent work this season to date and should provide the Genevans with plenty of competition.

Coach Robert Park has warned his men that Geneva supremacy in conference dual meets is at stake in this meet and that every member of the squad must be at his best if Frank Wolf's outfit is to be defeated.

Geneva emerged from the Penn Relay Carnival with several honors. Evans led in the 400 meter hurdle final until two collisions on the curve eliminated him. He was more fortunate in the mile relay when he teamed with Sauer, Brust and Villanova. Spencer watched his championship and record in the high jump pass to George Spatz of New York U but secured second place with a leap of 6 feet 4 inches. Joe Beggs, a fourth place performer in 1932, improved to second place in the javelin throw ranking just behind Wernitz of Colgate.

It isn't hard to tell "quality folks" You can treat them as equals without inviting impudence.

Stock Market During Morning Session

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 5.—A stampede of buy touched off by President Roosevelt's optimistic address on business and the crash in the dollar to new lows, sent stocks booming 1 to 3 points today.

Commodities were up sharply also, led by wheat and cotton, while speculative bonds were up spectacularly in the bond market. Government and gilt-edged issues were firm.

The old-time leaders led the market, with hundreds of issues going to new highs for the year. U. S. Steel common was outstanding while General Motors continued to be taken in tremendous volume.

American Telephone and Consolidated Gas were strong in the utilities. Atchafalaya, Union Pacific and N. Y. Central were the pacemakers in the rails. Sugars were buoyant while oils continued strong with low-priced issues hitting new highs.

Cash Threshing was up sharply in the farm stocks. Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck were strong and active. Mining stocks were active but showed few changes of importance. Goodrich was a strong spot in the rubbers.

City Solons Transact Monthly Business At Meeting Here Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—The monthly meeting of Ellwood City council was held in the city building last night.

A communication was received from the Public Service Commission stating that Ellwood City is permitted to enter their complaint in conjunction with other cities and boroughs against the rates of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company.

Protest Contract Award.
Two protests were heard at this time by council against their awarding of the gas and oil contract last night. Harry Felton and Nelson Runyan both pointed out that their bids were lower than the one that the contract was awarded to. Council seemed to be confused with the tax exemption when they awarded the contract to the Shelby service station. Both of the men asked for explanations. President J. E. Powell delegated the rules and regulations committee to go over the matter with the two men. The committee stated that there was some irregularity in their bids which caused them to recommend the awarding of the contract to the Shelby service station.

The police committee was ordered by council to investigate the new proposal of the Gamewell company for the installation of a police signal system here that is stated to be more economic than the present system.

G. H. Morrison, chairman of the finance committee, turned over to the borough clerk a check for $70 for damages done to a telephone pole in the city by a truck. Tax Collector E. B. Meyer announced that he had collected a total sum of $25,093.13 in school and borough taxes for the month of April.

The monthly report of the local fire department showed that there were three fires in the borough at which there were no damages. For their services firemen received $25. The police report showed that there were seven arrests for the last month of which four were discharged, one fined and two forfeited. Total fines and forfeits were $49.50.

There were 11 cases of scarlet fever, three of German measles, two of tuberculosis and one of pneumonia in the city for the month of April, according to the report of the health department. It was noticed that the scarlet fever cases were reduced from 117 for the past three months to 11 now. There was some discussion whether it would be advisable to close the schools in case of an epidemic of this kind. O. P. Lersch, member of the health board, was present at the time and stressed the opinion that scarlet fever could be better controlled if the schools remained open where the children would be under the watchful eyes of nurses and physicians. He pointed out that nearly all local physicians are against closing of the schools in the case experienced here.

The street committee reported that the work of removing the Harmony rails is rapidly progressing and is nearing completion. Clyde B. Houk, chairman of the committee, stated that he is receiving a number of bids for the scrap rails. It was also announced at this time that work on repairing the Fourth and Sixth street railroad crossings by the railroad companies is expected to be started in a short while.

Council Decides
Not To Support
City Playgrounds

Motion To Appropriate $300 Fails To Go Through In Two Separate Votes

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—It appears that Ellwood City will not have playgrounds this year, in view of an action taken by the borough council at its monthly meeting in the city building last night.

Two separate motions to appropriate $300 for support of the local playgrounds failed to go through despite the efforts of Councilmen Thomas D. Rocco, Alex. Main, M. A. Riley and William McGilney. The motion favoring the appropriation was made by Mr. McGilney, chairman of the police committee, which worked in conjunction with the rules and regulations in making a recommendation. The first vote ended in a tie when President Powell voted for the appropriation. Failing to get a majority the motion was lost. In the second vote Mr. Powell reversed his decision, to defeat the motion again.

Councilman Morrison voted against it because there was no arrangement made for playgrounds in the borough budget for 1933. The voting for it felt that funds could be obtained for it from another source. Council will probably be asked to reconsider the action.

Council voted last night to donate a sum not exceeding $200 for the annual Memorial Day celebration here. All that is not used will be returned. The bills will be subject to the approval of council.

Teachers Elected
At Koppel School

J. Gerald Muder Is Again Elected As Principal For Ensuing Year

KOPPEL, May 5.—The Koppel Borough Board of Education met last evening in the school building.

The teacher's salary bill having been cleared up in the state legislature, it became necessary for the board to reduce some of the teachers' salaries to the minimum as prescribed by the law.

The board then proceeded to elect the teachers for the term 1933-34. The following were elected: Louise Guy, Nora Ritchie, Irene E. Minner, Ruth R. Shaner, Sadie L. McDaniel, Adaline C. Johnson, Eva Perlelli, and Mr. J. Gerald Muder. Due to the economic situation in Koppel, it became necessary to appoint Mr. Muder as both teacher and supervisor of school work for the coming year. Heretofore Mr. Muder acted as only supervisor, but will now act as both supervisor and teacher.

A budget is being prepared at present and in two weeks, Wednesday, May 17, the board will meet in special session and adopt and levy the tax rate for the year 1933.

Health Board Here

Ask Council To Reconsider Doing Away With Present Health Officer

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—O. P. Lersch, member of the Ellwood City health board, made a plea before the regular meeting of the borough council in the city hall last night to reconsider their decision of doing away with the present health officer and combining his duties with that of fire chief.

Mr. Lersch pointed out that at present there is no one in the city but Louis Young, the present health officer, who is qualified for this position. Any others will be required to take an examination. He suggested that it be handled some other way such as cutting the salary of Mr. Young, who has served many years as health officer in a very efficient manner. The speaker was of the opinion that the health board should have been consulted before council made their decision at their last meeting.

After hearing this plea, President Powell referred the matter to the borough solicitor and health committee for a reconsideration.

Ellwood Ready To Enter Pitt Meet

Tubers To Be Strong Contenders For Crown Now Held By New Castle

ELLWOOD CITY, May 5.—Despite the fact that the school is not supporting a track team this year Ellwood City high will be represented at the annual Pitt Inter-Scholastic track and field meet Saturday with a crack team.

Todd Lloyd who has coached track here for the past two years has been working out with 13 fine local tracksters, members of last year's team. The school has furnished old equipment. The team will stand its own expenses to Pittsburgh tomorrow.

It consists of Captain Joe Welsh, Stanley Yanaskevitz, Paul Kuben, and Leymarie in the sprints; Kuben and Church McCloskey in the hurdles; Bob Johnson, John Lincoln (Beaver Valley half-mile champion), John Leggerio, Sam Cusato, and Orrin Logue in the distance events; Mike Paul, Red Vogt, and Johnny Savor in the weight events.

Much color and competition will be absent from the meet since there is only one Beaver Valley entry (Ambridge). As far as it is known now New Castle will not be present to defend its title. These schools have given up track as a matter of economy for this year.

Koppel Council
Sets Tax Rates

KOPPEL, Pa., May 5.—With all members answering the roll call, the Koppel borough council met at a special session and officially adopted the budget for 1933 and levied the tax millage. President L. H. Hennig was in charge of the meeting.

The tax millage was set at 15 mills, the same rate as in previous years, 11.4 mills for general borough purposes and 3.6 mills for the sinking and retirement of bonds. An ordinance, number 127, passed by the council fixed the tax levy for all borough purposes for the year 1933.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There's a different beauty for every season in the mountains of Pennsylvania. There's a majesty in winter's cloak when the snow bends down the hemlocks and spruces, there's peace in the summer when the trees are carrying their full load of foliage. Autumn brings exhilaration with the heady, wine-colored tints and the air that goes tingling through the system. But none of these have their place just now. It's spring and the mountains are broadcasting it to the world.

From the low lying hillock to the top of the highest peak. Spring is offered to all those who will take it and the price is the time to make an automobile trip across the state. Laurel Ride, Sideling Mountain, Tuscarora Summit, Gallitzin Hill all of them shriek out the demise of the winter and the coming of spring.

In the daylight the hills are clothed in a garish green dress that throws back the sunlight and keeps you looking around the next turn for new scenes. At night the new moon daubs a silver sheen over the tops and the sides that reminds you of some giant desert waiting to be gobbled up by some enormous fellow. And at dusk the valleys a panorama of purples and magentas that change tint every minute as a rose colored sun drops back of the hill just beyond.

Come mighty close to going sentimental there for a minutes, but the mountains do something to you if you have the least spark of the appreciation of beauty in your soul, and yesterday was a great day for riding the heights.

Spring comes a little early to Harrisburg and the valleys around it. The lilacs are out in huge clusters, the Capitol grounds are a fairland of new leaves and blooms, and the old Susquehanna River reminds you it's Spring as the fleet of coal dredges and barges like a fleet of mosquitoes sucking out the anthracite that has been washed into the river from up Shenandoah way.

On the grounds of the State Capitol you can spend hours just looking. The giant magnolia tree has sent out its fan sized leaves looking for all the world like a big banana stalk. The English oak, one of few such trees in the state is dressing up and seemingly turning a snooty gaze upon the native elms and maples and birches.

Underneath the trees the squirrels dart here and there looking for kind hearted strangers who will feed them peanuts and all the while the greedy little animals have the ground beneath filled with the nuts they planted last fall.

Tried out a new route to Harrisburg yesterday. Butler, Saxtonburg, Delmont, Greensburg and the Lincoln Highway. A pretty route and but a few miles longer than the William Penn. From the New Castle Public Square to the Third and Walnut corner of the Capitol is just 262 miles, by this route.

Hope you got to the Music Festival last night. The Secret Service department reports a huge crowd, and an outstanding success, but then that hardly rates as news. We knew it would be all the time.
